

Law of Communication

Is the trans having a Problem with YOU?

Attention brings perception. Perception allows understanding. Understanding permits corrective action.

So what fixes it? Caring, because caring creates attention.

What does this mean? It means work on what you love and always choose to love what you work on.

Certainly you have noticed that when you get upset with any identity it doesn't want you to FIX it? Just because it is a trans or a particular vehicle doesn't change a thing. This is not a mystery.

To fix something it must be able to communicate to you what the cause of the problem is. If you are upset with it it doesn't want to communicate with you, and it doesn't want you "fixing" it. [ByTelling it how wrong it is]

Communication 1st law: A communication channel expands or contracts to match the amount of RESPECTFUL communication that goes back and forth thru it in BOTH DIRECTIONS.

When you are upset the trans does not want to communicate with you. The trans always knows what it is doing, we are ones that don't know. If you've tried a couple things and it is not fixed, it's probably upset with you. It's time to say, "please forgive me and allow me a fresh start." Caring is in the heart not the brain.

Opening the heart is what makes the momentary calmness the brain needs to reach understanding and see causes. Then be thankful not bossy.

The secret is to let the behavior of the trans tell you what to do, instead of you telling the trans how it should behave.

Sooner or later just about every problem gets fixed because it will go from place to place hunting for someone who is caring enough to listen and wise enough to not try to outsmart it.

It's a lot easier to fix the complaints than deal with the hassle.
